Finnish mobile company Jolla opens in Africa - launches smartphone sales in Namibia with Telecom Namibia

Windhoek, Namibia, March 26, 2015 – Jolla Ltd., the Finnish mobile company, distribution company LexConsult, and mobile operator Namibia Telecom today announced the innovative Jolla smartphone running on independent Sailfish OS is now available in Namibia exclusively through TN Mobile.

Jolla is a Finnish smartphone running on open and independent mobile operating system Sailfish OS. Based on the heritage of Nokia and Meego, the Jolla smartphone offers a distinct user experience, unlike any of the competition.

The Jolla smartphone and Sailfish OS feature distinct button-less design, next generation gesture-based smartphone user interface, live multitasking, and full Android application compatibility. The Jolla smartphone is now available in Namibia exclusively through TN Mobile shops offline and online.

Sami Pienimäki, Co-founder and CMO, Jolla Ltd. comments: “We are absolutely thrilled to be launching our Jolla smartphone in Africa, a totally new continent for Jolla. Together with our local partners LexConsult and Namibia Telecom, we look forward to offering Namibians a unique smartphone user experience based on Sailfish OS, our independent mobile operating system powered by open source software. Jolla smartphone is the perfect choice for you if you’re looking for world-class multitasking features, focus on privacy (Jolla does not sell user data), a lot of personalizing options, Android application compatibility, and more.”

Armando Perny, Mobile Chief Officer, Namibia Telecom comments: “Jolla, with its independent mobile operating system Sailfish OS offers a fresh alternative to the smartphone market currently dominated by only a few players. We are very excited to be able to bring Jolla to Namibia. Together with TN Mobile’s 4G LTE network we can offer an unrivalled mobile experience to all Namibians.”

Jolla: unique user experience with distinct design from Finland

The Jolla smartphone represents simple and bold Finnish smartphone design heritage in its purest way. With its pure lines and clarity, Jolla feels sleek and just right in your hand. The button-less, gesture-based user interface, designed for optimal use with just one hand, offers an unrivalled user experience, which is fast and simple to use. With its live multitasking, Jolla is the only smartphone that shows all your running apps on one screen, without having to open and close them.

The Jolla smartphone supports all your favorite Android applications as well as intuitive native Sailfish OS apps, which makes Jolla an easy choice for those interested in a smartphone that stands out from the rest.

The Other Half: re-create your Jolla and make it a personal experience

The Jolla smartphone also introduces a previously unseen combination of hardware and software innovation, called "The Other Half". By attaching specifically designed smart covers, the smartphone becomes alive and unique, utilizing preset ambiences and functionalities, such as colors, fonts, sounds, profiles, and applications. Manufactured from ultra-durable and scratch resistant polycarbonate, "The Other Half" is the soul of your Jolla, delivering a personal and unique experience.

Pricing and availability

The Jolla smartphone will be available in TN Mobile shops around Namibia (starting from Windhoek) starting on March 28, 2015. The price for the Jolla is NAD 5,200.

Available accessories currently include The Other Half Lime, The Other Half Aloe, The Other Half Black, and The Other Half Pink. The price for each smart cover is NAD 300.

Open industry invitation to the Sailfish OS alliance

In early March 2015 Jolla announced that it is inviting OEMs, ODMs, and leading internet, eCommerce, and content players to join the 'Sailfish OS alliance'. By joining the alliance, partners will get a privileged license to Sailfish OS to build an own unique mobile offering, and to take full advantage of the flexibility and versatile features of Sailfish OS. Jolla is also looking for potential partners in Africa to join the alliance.
